LYNNHAVEN PARKWAY REOPENS BETWEEN ALBRIGHT DRIVE AND DALRYMPLE STREET

VIRGINIA BEACH—Lynnhaven Parkway between Albright Drive and Dalrymple Street reopened to traffic today following construction work as part of the Lynnhaven Parkway Widening Project.

The closure had been in place since February to allow for reconstruction of this portion of Lynnhaven Parkway, as well as the installation of waterline, sanitary and storm sewers, sound walls, embankment, curbs, sidewalk and pavement.

Traffic can now access all side streets between Albright Drive and Sidney Circle via Lynnhaven Parkway. Residents living on the south side of Lynnhaven Parkway (Sidney Court, S. Angus Drive, Etheridge Circle, S. Dalrymple Street and Nelson Court) still need to use the crossover at the intersection of Dalrymple Street and Lynnhaven Parkway to access their streets.

Lynnhaven Parkway is estimated to remain closed past Sidney Circle until late December.

Construction of the Lynnhaven Parkway Widening Project began in March 2014. The project is designed to add an additional lane in each direction and a bridge at the canal located between Centerville Turnpike and Indian River Road to create a connection between the cities of Chesapeake and Virginia Beach.
